

summer 2009

thank- you for reading and visiting our site, it really does mean a lot. we are out there creating art, energy and fun.

it's such an adventure, just don't know what or where a new idea will take us next.

Driven by something that matters.....

Here's the NEWS:

Alice Muhlback can be found on Sundays at the > Ithaca Farmers Market from 10-3.

There is still time to catch her > "Curiosity Changed Her- a trip to wonderland" show until Oct. 31st. It's in the back gallery space at the Kitschen Sink, 210 elmira road, ithaca 607.277.4914.

Alice Muhlback will be appearing at the > Ithaca Artist Market- July 31st, along with Spirit and Kitsch artists Werner Sun and Mary Reynolds. Friday from 2-8 pm . Should be fun , it's new and different having it on a Friday and into the evening by the water. Yes food , wine and coffee too!

> September 12th and 13th Clothesline Festival in Rochester, booth 421.

There are some new products- check out the red jounal and a new raven pin / t-shirts will be on the list as well as some new posters and cards. Also there will be a new website in the future > alicein-wonderlandisatrip.com

Having just finished a very successful map show called "Everything is a Map" with three Spirit and Kitsch artists- Alice Muhlback, Ben Marlan and Werner Sun, there will be more from that team! Alice is particularly inspired to create a wisdom map. Lately she is carving and etching more into her pieces. A story is in the works, stay tuned.
